Message from the Dean

On behalf of Melbourne Business School, I offer my warmest congratulations on your graduation.

Earning a qualification from Australia's number one business school is no small feat. It requires commitment, resilience and a deep curiosity. You are here today because you have these qualities and they are attributes that will continue to shape your path in the future.

Graduating today is not just about receiving a piece of paper. It's about acknowledging the transformational journey you have just undertaken. One that has challenged you and made you a better leader. I hope you feel a great deal of pride to be standing here, having made it through to the other side!

Through your time at Melbourne Business School, you've not only gained knowledge but also grown in capability, confidence and purpose.

You graduate into a world that demands bold, thoughtful leadership. From climate change and social polarisation to technological disruption, the challenges ahead are immense - but so are the opportunities. We believe you are ready, with the skills to navigate complexity, be innovative and lead with integrity.

As a member of our alumni community, you will always be part of Melbourne Business School. Stay connected, share your story, and continue to grow with us. Whether you return for an alumni event, a guest lecture, or a refresher program, we will be here to welcome you back.

We are so proud of you. We look forward to seeing the incredible impact that you will make!

“Congratulations to all of you from the bottom of my heart! It has been a privilege and a true pleasure to share the classroom with you over the past years.

I am grateful for all your energy, intellectual rigor, the hard work you have put in (even during those 9 p.m. case discussions), and the amazing diversity of human experience you brought to our sessions that make the class environment at Melbourne Business School so truly special.

You all have experienced firsthand during your time at MBS the profound meaning of opportunity cost as you were balancing the course load, careers, family, and everything else life threw at you! As much as we at the school would like to take credit for being good screeners of potential, it is mostly a testament to your phenomenal talents, resilience and drive.

You are now closing one chapter in your stories and starting a new one with a powerful toolkit acquired, a sharpened perspective, and, perhaps most importantly, a lifelong network of friends and future collaborators. I hope you will use your well-earned degree to amplify your impact, challenge the usual, and yes, maybe even occasionally break a norm or two (in a legal, ethical, and highly profitable/welfare-improving way, of course!).

I don't have the slightest doubt that you will all go on to achieve those things you care deeply about in your future endeavours. I truly wish to stay in touch so I can have the pleasure of being a witness to your marvellous journeys from now on. “ “Congratulations on completing your studies at MBS! I am so proud of you. Each of you has accomplished something extraordinary: mastering new knowledge and skills while balancing careers, families, and countless other commitments—often overcoming significant challenges along the way.

As Associate Dean (Teaching and Learning), I've had the privilege of meeting many of you at orientation and watching you grow during your journey here. For some, I've also had the honour of working with you more closely, and it has been inspiring to witness your transformation firsthand.

As you take this next step, I encourage you to keep learning, to keep connecting—with each other, with the MBS community, and with the world around you. Most importantly, continue to challenge yourselves to do remarkable things. Think entrepreneurially in everything you do—whether in an established organisation, startup, government, or social enterprise. Remember, even the smallest spark of change can create impact that truly matters.

Your time at MBS is just the beginning.”

Take care of yourselves and stay in touch! We love seeing what you achieve after you leave us.”

“Congratulations on an incredible achievement. You should be justifiably proud to have completed your MBA. And we are equally proud of all of you, now and forever, alumni of MBS. Wishing you all the best for a bright and impactful future!”
